January 6, 2019 The Epiphany of the Lord

Dear Parishioners,

"On the twelfth day of Christmas..." Today our Sunday commemoration coincides with the traditional celebration of the Epiphany (January 6) which is the twelfth day of Christmas. We recall the three kings or wisemen who traveled far distances to encounter the newborn king. As a star guided them by day and by night, we realize that today we have been called to guide others to Christ that they may encounter him for themselves.

This Tuesday, a group of pilgrims from the parish will be traveling to the Holy Land. I ask that you would keep us in prayer; know that we will be remembering you in our prayers as we visit the sites so important to our Faith in the life of Christ -- from Bethlehem to Jerusalem. This will be my fourth time in Israel and I am looking forward to seeing what sort of experiences the adventure will bring as there is always something new to be learned.

This coming Saturday, Bishop Burbidge will ordain a group of men to the permanent diaconate. Among them will be one of our parishioners, Mr. Anthony Renzette. Please keep Anthony in your prayers as he responds to God's call to service in his Holy Church. You are used to seeing Anthony assisting at Mass as a lector and acolyte (server), now he will proclaiming the Gospel, preaching homilies, leading Holy Hours, witnessing marriages, and performing Baptisms -- among other things. Please join me in congratulating Anthony on this wonderful occasion. A light reception is being planned for the Sunday, January 20th -- details will be in next weekend's bulletin.

God bless you all!

Sincerely in Christ,

Treasures from our Traditions

Monday of this week is Christmas Day in Russia and in much of the Orthodox world. This curious difference in schedule has a lot to do with how calendars have been developed and changed over the years. In the year 45 B.C. Julius Ceasar gave the empire his Julian Calendar, with the winter solstice on January 6. This put an end to a system in which officials called pontiffs were able to tweak the calendar by adding extra days in as needed. He invented two new months at that time, December and January; and in order to correct the mess the pontiffs had made, forced a year of 445 days on the empire in what he named The Last Year of Confusion. The new months varied in number of days according to a complex schedule, but the calendar was still off by nearly twelve minutes a year, and lost a full day every 130 years.

Pope Gregory XIII reformed the calendar in 1583, but not everyone appreciated his efforts. England held out for two hundred years. The year 1700 was a leap year in England, but not in France; they were eleven days apart! George Washington was really born on February 11; when the Gregorian calendar was finally adopted in the English colonies shortly before the Revolution, he had to move his birthday to February 22. Now the calendars are thirteen days apart, which accounts for Russia's Julian calendar Christmas. And Caesar thought he had brought confusion to an end!
