Scattered Thoughts

- Whenever you think your story is over, God will show you that it's just beginning.
- Mountaintops are fine for inspiration, but fruit is grown in the valleys.
- The smallest good deed is more valuable than the greatest good intention.
- The minute you walk outside of church on Sunday, you're in mission territory.
- Forgiveness does not change your past. It changes your future.
- If you sincerely want to do the will of God, he will always put you in the right place at the right time.
- The most difficult instrument in the world to play is second fiddle.
- If you aren't in green pastures and restful waters, then maybe the Lord isn't your shepherd.
- The sin causing the most destruction in your life right now is the one you're most defensive about.
- Vengeance is God exacting perfect justice. Revenge is us pretending we are God.
- If we were more concerned with the wrong we've done to God, we would be less concerned for the wrong others have done to us.
- If you are too busy to pray, then you are busier than God wants you to be.
- God is not a symbol of goodness. Goodness is a symbol of God.
- We think God will love us if we change. The Gospel says God will change us if we love.
- Some people come into your life as blessings. The rest come into your life as lessons.
- I have given God countless reasons not to love me. None of them has ever changed his mind.
- The more you depend on God, the more dependable he will become.
- Whatever worries you, masters you.
- Never make a permanent decision because of a passing storm.
- Show me where you spend your time, money, and heart, and I will show you what you worship.
- We should never let ourselves be entertained by the sins for which Christ died.
- The child who never learns to honor his parents in the home will never honor anyone else outside the home.
- Trust in God means trust in his timing.
- The best way to have the last word is to apologize.

God bless you, and St. Theresa, pray for us!

Fr. Hudgins
